

Our Time Has Come

Average White Band

Looking back on the road we left behind
I wonder just what it is we've done Seems like we've earned the right To throw the dice again Let's make the pieces fit together - as one

To be masters of our own fate
- is all we're asking for Looks like we don't have long
to wait, no more

Now, now that our time has come
- let's take our chance right now, Now, let's finish what we begun -
- no time to hang around Now that our time has finally come around

Looking ahead, just one step at a time I think that by now we should know enough
Seems like we've learned the way
To keep it all in line There ain't no way that we will let it get too tough

To be running in our own race
Is all we're asking for
Looks like we don't have long
to wait, no more
