

Feed The Fire

Avery Lynch

You always try and force me out of character
Testing my lines and limits like it's all you care about
Is this fun for you, does it make you feel good
Is there something I did that you're holding onto
This is all starting to be so unbearable

I'm tired of playing it cool

Just leave me alone, all I did is move on
And sometimes it feels like it would've been better
If I stooped as low, gave you hell like you want
Did I feed the fire by having enough 'cause
No one warned me that some
People need to get back what they give to move on
And I guess you were one
Did I feed the fire by just giving up

What are you waiting, watching, doing all this for
Are you close to done, it's gone on too long
How haven't you gotten bored

Yeah, I'm tired of playing it cool

So just leave me alone, all I did is move on
And sometimes it feels like it would've been better
If I stooped as low, gave you hell like you want
Did I feed the fire by having enough 'cause
No one warned me that some
People need to get back what they give to move on
And I guess you were one
Did I feed the fire by just giving up

I bet you decipher my words in your room by yourself
Like you've won thinking it's all for you
But I'm tired of seeing your name in my views
What are you trying to do

Just leave me alone, all I did is move on
And sometimes it feels like it would've been better
If I stooped as low, gave you hell like you want
Did I feed the fire by having enough 'cause
No one warned me that some
People need to get back what they give to move on
And I guess you were one
Did I feed the fire by just giving up
