

Stay up, stay up
We gotta stay up til the sunrise explosion of sweetness
Our eyes will be tired and the night begins cheating on us

Stay up, stay up
We gotta stay up til sunrise, we'll talk of the old times
When nothing had angles and no one was cheating on us

Stay up, gotta stay up man
It's been so long since we Laughed in the darkness
And sometimes we'd say
"What if the light didn't come?"

Stay up, gotta stay up man
Gonna stay up til sunrise
It could be the last time
That the earth makes it so

Think you'd feel better if you do your hair up pretty?
There's a crowd around my drink I am alone
The things I start to say are better left at home
Now I'm just waiting for a date I'll never know

Think you'd feel better when you save up all your manys?
I'm just saving all my courage for the war
The things I start to say are better left at home
Now I'm just waiting for a date I'll never know

Has she told you?

Stay up, stay up
We gotta stay up til sunrise implosion of secrets
Your ideas more foolish and the dark is retreating from us

Stay up, stay up, stay up
We gotta stay up til the sunrise to dead or hypnotized
To lie in the face like the tiger that's leaping little son

Stay up, gotta stay up man
We gotta stay up til the sunrise
Man, don't let my eyes close
I don't want you to go

Stay up, gotta stay up man
Gotta stay up til the sunrise the night left us hungry
But we'll sleep soon

Think you'd feel better if you do your hair up pretty?
There's a crowd around my drink I am alone
The things I start to say are better left at home
Now I'm just waiting for a date I'll never know

Think you'd feel better when you save up all your manys?
I'm just saving all my courage for the war
The things I start to say are better left at home
Now I'm just waiting for a date I'll never know

Has she told you?
