

Thousands of years and still nothing has changed
We fool ourselves a millionth time, how weak is your mind?

War and crusades, the children's cries will never fade away
Try to fill the void of a mother's son with your prayers
No symbol can justify these kind of sins
Salvation's what you seek, show no mercy for the weak
But his hand, you will not reach
'Cause you're knee deep in the shit that you preach

This world is hell in disguise
As we fight for nothing your brother dies
We have loved and we have lost, but you've only lost
This world is hell in disguise

Salvation's what you seek, show no mercy for the weak
Thousands of years and still nothing has changed
We fool ourselves a millionth time, how weak is your mind?

This world is hell in disguise
As we fight for nothing your brother dies
We have loved and we have lost, but you've only lost
This world is hell in disguise
No answer to the questions we have
So we take matter in to own bloody hands
This world is hell in disguise
We fool ourselves a millionth time, how weak is your mind?
