Bones

Aviators

It doesn't mean I'm jaded
If I don't need your help
But some scars deep inside me
I should really solve myself
You'd be right to say I'm different
But wrong to say I'm strange
I'm clearer in the darkness
And that's never going to change

Moonlight streaming in the windows
Silence sounding like a song, you
Can't stop the voices in my head, so
I prefer to stand alone
War is rising under starlight
All I need to get my thoughts right
One night with the demons inside
The chains and burdens that I own
In my bones

I hold inside my feelings
Which I always do regret
I know I should speak freely
But I'm not ready for that yet
The nighttime brings the quiet
Refreshing solitude
I'm flying on my own now
Even though I still need you

Moonlight streaming in the windows
Silence sounding like a song, you
Can't stop the voices in my head, so
I prefer to stand alone
War is rising under starlight
All I need to get my thoughts right
One night with the demons inside
The chains and burdens that I own
In my bones

Bones, bones, bones, bones

Sick of smoke and mirrors
They all bring their fears
I'm not alone
Just buried in a tomb I call home
So it all ends here
Please make these chains disappear
The shadows will taunt me tonight
The emotions looking for a fight

Moonlight streaming in the windows
Silence sounding like a song, you
Can't stop the voices in my head, so
I prefer to stand alone
War is rising under starlight
All I need to get my thoughts right
One night with the demons inside
The chains and burdens that I own

In my bones

(Yeah, monsters deep within me in my bones)
Bones, bones, bones, bones
(Monsters deep within me in my bones)
