

Down Together

Aviators

You'll remember all the landmarks, but these cobblestones have changed
Thrones as broken and corrupted as the games they used to play
And though the midnight hounds are howling
There's collective hope to keep
You will make your many missteps but have roots still running deep
There is poison in the water, and a curse hangs in the air
It'll humble your ambition when you start by playing fair
You risk your assets on a gamble, now you'll have to pay it back
When you're dealing with a demon, don't you bet on red or black

Here in the rain of the night
Crusading in reply
Feast or famine
We're building bonds in steel and leather
To meet again in defeat
We repeat, because
Nothing we are, we are forever
When we go down, go down together

When the upper hand is handed to our final enemy
You are beaten down, your luck is out, but you can count on me
It's a picture of damnation to be crawling once again
But I've felt it too, and carried through, our pieces to the end
It might be hopeless in the moment, with the fate we've come upon
We've all had our lights extinguished, but those threats before are gone
Death has reared its many heads, so where we lack, we lend a hand
Though the darkness tries to take us, incandescently we stand

Here in the rain of the night
Crusading in reply
Feast or famine
We're building bonds in steel and leather
To meet again in defeat
We repeat, because
Nothing we are we are forever
When we go down, go down together

We go down, go down together

Well you've felt soul part from body, and it's cracked your very core
We're all piecing back together our remembrance of before
But as still surviving fragments, we find rage enough for war
And the fire of coalition keeps us coming back for more
We will stumble on our journey, and we'll barely be alive
We've betrayed each other's safety, but forgiveness must abide
Because friendship's rare in danger, in the deepest of divides
But we'll know this pain united, facing danger from all sides

So when we bruise and bleed
No, you won't give to defeat
Because we aren't going down 'til we're
Down, down, down, down together
Down together

Here in the rain of the night
Crusading in reply
Feast or famine

We're building bonds in steel and leather
To meet again in defeat
We repeat, because
Nothing we are we are forever
When we go down, go down together

We go down, go down together
We go down, go down together
Together, we're going down
