

Eternal Lullaby

Aviators

And wished to drift in sleep
A heart stolen
Broken open
Blooms a sea of dreams
That pools within the deep

I saw the loss in your eyes
So did it hurt to leave behind
The pieces of your soul
That made us whole
Two hearts betwixt one mind
It kills me
Now to see you throw
Your love into the dregs below
As heartbreak sings a sweet
Eternal lullaby

The branches now you cling to
A garden wrought with thorns
It's a shame, and now a travesty
That you'd root out every part of me
And in that void
A loveless God reborn

I saw the loss in your eyes
So did it hurt to leave behind
The pieces of your soul
That made us whole
Two hearts betwixt one mind
It kills me
Now to see you throw
Your love into the dregs below
As heartbreak sings a sweet
Eternal lullaby

Creep, let them creep
Oh twisted vines at fate's direction
Sleep, put to sleep
Choking tears of your rejection
Deep, cut so deep
I dreamt an end to your ascension

I saw the loss in your eyes
So did it hurt to leave behind
The pieces of your soul
That made us whole
Two hearts betwixt one mind
It kills me
Now to see you throw
Eternal lullaby
