Fever

Aviators

Looks I'm a rebel without a cause
Hell bent on a world that never was I've been told I'm madman now
But if I'm sane then get me out
Peering eyes tell a story that isn't true
No one really knows but me and you
Burdened by the secrets known
Silence fell and I'm still alone

You're like a fever taking hold
Just like a curse from days of old
Like a prophecy
it's killing me
Knowing the lies you've told
I see true colors underneath
I know the things they won't believe
You're a wolf beneath
This woven sheath
I'm the one you can't deceive

So sick with the burden of knowing you
It's a hopeless cause finding the truth
They all say I'm a madman now
It looks like I'm never getting out
If winning now makes you happy, then take your prize
I have given up looking through your eyes
It looks like I'm the liar here
If only I could disappear

You're like a fever taking hold
Just like a curse from days of old
Like a prophecy
it's killing me
Knowing the lies you've told
I see true colors underneath
I know the things they won't believe
You're a wolf beneath
This woven sheath
I'm the one you can't deceive

The fever that you are You've kept your lies so far
But you have no allure
When I am the cure

You're like a fever taking hold
Just like a curse from days of old
Like a prophecy
it's killing me
Knowing the lies you've told
I see true colors underneath
I know the things they won't believe
You're a wolf beneath
This woven sheath
I'm the one you can't deceive
