

Haunted House

Aviators

The monsters under my bed were wrong
When they told me I'll never be this strong
But that was long ago, today
I'm running with courage in my own way
But it gets lonely in this room
The ghosts can bring a sense of gloom
You're the cure to the doubt I know so well
Since you cast me deep under a spell

I can hear the clock tower ringing
The mournful ghosts in the hall still singing
Welcome to my strange dimension
I'll let you live in my haunted mansion
I'm not a zombie plagued with sickness
I'm just a mess and you know how to fix this
If this is love we can figure it all out
In this old haunted house

Don't mind the vampires living upstairs
This place is full of spooks and scares
But I hope you'll give me a chance
In here we'll build our own expanse
I'm sick and tired of playing the fool
And being laughed at by these ghouls
With you I feel immortal
'Cause what's the fun in being normal?

I can hear the clock tower ringing
The mournful ghosts in the hall still singing
Welcome to my strange dimension
I'll let you live in my haunted mansion
I'm not a zombie plagued with sickness
I'm just a mess and you know how to fix this
If this is love we can figure it all out
In this old haunted house

I've taken too many years to roam
But it's time to make this haunted house into a home
With you I know I feel a little bit freer
Who knows, I don't, and you don't either
But I think it's time to run for our lives

I can hear the clock tower ringing
The mournful ghosts in the hall still singing
Welcome to my strange dimension
I'll let you live in my haunted mansion
I'm not a zombie plagued with sickness
I'm just a mess and you know how to fix this
If this is love we can figure it all out
In this old haunted house
