

Snowdrop

Aviators

You cannot see but your heart is pure
I know you feel trapped
In a dark world
Some brush you off
and call you weak but your name is Snowdrop and one day they'll see

If you hold fast and stand strong you'll discover who you are
If you listen to the world at night
you can hear the twinkling stars
If you use love to guide your heart
you are bound to go far
You have the power to change the world
being uniquely who you are

You cannot see
But your mind is sure
I know you feel sick
When there's no cure
Some brush you off
With words that clip your wings but you have to know this I'm here to sing

If you hold fast and stand strong
you'll discover who you are
If you listen to the world at night
you can hear the twinkling stars
If you use love to guide your heart
being uniquely who you are
