

Jettison Tears

Avion Roe

Who would you tell if secrets were meant to be spilled
Like ice from the stars as they fell
Worn from the sun and the sky
If heaven sent angels to hell
I know that id see you again
A soul is not meant to resell

No love is the same
Is that what you live for, what you'd die for?
Demonstrate

Where would you go if the city were flooded with fire
You'd drown somewhere flooded with snow
Quiet like echoes through air
With rivers of whispers that show
Your heart is not meant to let stay
And your soul is not meant to let go

No love is the same
Is that what you live for, what you'd die for?
Demonstrate

Tell me again how the love in the end is what saves
In a dark and hollow space
(I am safe)
Tell me again how the ocean and wind know their place
And they never make mistakes
And how I can't take this out of your way

No love is the same
Is that what you live for, what you'd die for?
