

Sins & Edicts

Avion Roe

I lost it
You can not hear what I said
You can not hear
The faint attack my world can leave on you, you
An offset
The smoke will clear it all in
A static fear,
The same reaction I would have on you, you

Turn away with all your
Faith and they all follow
And when you live again
Run until you let love in
Burn away with all your
Faith and they all follow
And when you live again
Run into oblivion

I want it
A second chance, I've fallen
A new romance
I wait to see my world envelope
you, you
I lost it
Your faith became exhausted
Your faith became
The waste I thought I never had in you, you

Turn away with all your
Faith and they all follow
And when you live again
Run until you let love in
Burn away with all your
Faith and they all follow
And when you live again
Run into oblivion

Turn away with all your Faith in me
Burn away

Turn away with all your Faith and they all fall
And when you live again
Run until you let love in
Turn away with all your
Faith in and they all follow
And when you live again
Run into oblivion
