

Violent Lights

Avion Roe

Wake my eyes
Violent lights and whisper
All in time
And now, and now
Erase my mind
Waste my life
But I can't trade my time
And now, and now
I wait in line
To dry your eyes

The misery inside
Can define the line
And the love of all those blind will give them
Sight and will I find that I'm not
Right inside
Will I change my mind
And when I get too close and your at my side
Will you take my life

Awake your mind
To violet skies
and kiss your fear goodbye
We're lying on the ocean floor
Paint a castle in your mind
A place where we can hide, a haven
We'll search for where your heart was taken
I can't find you inside of me
Inside my heart

The misery inside
Can define the line
And the love of all those blind will give them
Sight and will I find that I'm not
Will I change my mind
And when I get too close and your at my side
Will you take my life

You have lost your hope
And all the strength that I thought was inside of you
You lost you, lost your hope
You lost your fight for more
And when is life worth dying for
We made a brand new brand of war
You let it go

The misery inside
Can define the line
And the love of all those blind will give them
Sight and will I find that I'm not
Will I change my mind
And when I get too close and your at my side
Will you take my life

Will you take my life

Will you take my life
Will you take my, will you take my Take, take my life
