

Never Enough

AVIVA

Got all these people telling me you've changed your mind now
I'm here to say that it's too late, that choice was final
I bet you're wishing you could fly right back in time now
But dreams are free and so am I
The feeling's primal

I'm trying to remind you
Things you do are remembered, and there are things you can't undo
Your past is right behind you
Don't look back unless you wanna see that you were

Never enough, that's what you said to me
But now you are talking to a mem'ry
Never enough, that's what you'll always be
Man, it took me long enough to see ya
You always told me I was never enough, never enough
Never enough, that's what you said to me
But now you are talking to a memory

There's nothing you could say to make me press rewind so
Start second guessing all your choices for your final
I bet your mama tells you "things'll be alright" and
"Sweet dreams baby" - you'll need them, I'ma be your nightmare

I'm trying to remind you
Things that you do are remembered, and there are things you can't und o
Your past is right behind you
Don't look back unless you wanna see that you were

Never enough, that's what you said to me
But now you are talking to a mem'ry
Never enough, that's what you'll always be
Man, it took me long enough to see ya
You always told me I was never enough, never enough
Never enough, that's what you said to me
But now you are talking to a memory

That's what you'll always be
That's what you'll always be

Never enough, that's what you said to me
But now you are talking to a mem'ry
Never enough, that's what you'll always be
Man, it took me long enough to see ya
You always told me I was never enough, never enough
Never enough, that's what you said to me
But now you are talking to a memory
