

So sinister, woah-oh

Excuses always on your lips, they are such pretty lies
Act like you mean it, see that watch you sayin' almost hurts
But I can't understand what you want
Try to help, but I can't, 'cause it's hurting me
Cannot fix, someone else's broken the past
Just don't fit, final piece was me

What you want from me?
Tell me, what you need?
Tell me, what you see?
Oh, what you, what you want from me?

So sinister that you're looking at me
Like you just didn't mean it
You made these scars and calloused my heart
Now I'm too numb to feel it

Misplaced attention, started fires and we both got burned
Both fighting for ourselves, that was the problem, never works
But I cannot forget all the things that you said
Made me think there was something else
Holding on to the hope, another life, another time
Things were different, they might've worked (Worked)

What you want from me?
Tell me, what you need?
Tell me, what you see?
Oh, what you, what you want from me?

So sinister that you're looking at me
Like you just didn't mean it
You made these scars and calloused my heart
Now I'm too numb to feel it

You made these scars, calloused my heart
You made these scars, calloused my heart

So sinister that you're looking at me
Like you just didn't mean it
You made these scars and calloused my heart
Now I'm too numb to feel it

You made these scars, calloused my heart
You made these scars, calloused my heart

So sinister, woah-oh
