

Memories are chasing through my head
Everytime I reach out it hurts so bad
Would you be the light guide me through the storm
Shine so bright till you bring us home
Remember me when it's to dark to see
Drop it

These endless walls so hard to climb
It tears the strength out of my mind
I'm lost inside these memories
They leave me caged behind bars made of broken dreams
Someday I will defeat the fear
Redemption's near

Memories are chasing through my head
Everytime I reach out it hurts so bad
Would you be the light guide me through the storm
Shine so bright till you bring us home
Remember me when it's to dark to see

Facing the unknown
Now it's time to see what lies behind
Long outgrown
There is so much buried beneath
Tearing up my nails to dig deep
Oh when it gets the better of me

Memories are chasing through my head
Everytime I reach out it hurts so bad
Would you be the light guide me through the storm
Shine so bright till you bring us home
Remember me when it's to dark to

Pitch black thoughts still taking me back
Hiding deep in the back of my head
Pitch black thoughts still taking me back
Are you the voice in the back of my head?

Cause when the light is fading
Fading away
Nothing to save us
From this decay
So hold onto it
Before it's to late

Memories are chasing through my head
Everytime I reach out it hurts so bad
Would you be the light guide me through the storm
Shine so bright till you bring us home
Remember me when it's to dark to see

When it's to dark to see
Remember me when it's to dark to see
