

Sweet sweet surrender

I recite ancient syllables
Lost myself in the ritual
Deep down I know it's cynical
Why does this place feel so liminal?

Feel the golden glow
Carry on or you will never know
Even though I know I shouldn't go
I keep drifting
Cause I'm missing you

I still hear distant intervals
Calling me back just like miracles
I resist but it feels natural
To just give in and let it take control

Hear the sirens calling me
Hello?
Hear the sirens calling me

Feel the golden glow
Carry on or you will never know
Even though I know I shouldn't go
I keep drifting
Cause I'm missing you

I lost a god damn part of me
Ripped straight out of my memories
Feel the golden glow
I keep drifting cause I'm missing you

It's now or never
I want to feel
I want to feel the glamour

Sweet sweet surrender

It's now or never
I want to feel
I want to feel the glamour
Feel the golden glow

Now or never
I want to feel
I want to feel forever
Sweet sweet surrender
