Horrified by Repulsion

Gleaning all hideouts Checking every house Hungry for human flesh Smelling all our fears

Slowly crawling they always arrive One by one devouring the alive Biting your arms and sucking your brains Licking your stumps ruminating your guts

Horrified, Horrified, Horrified by Repulsion

Locked up in my basement With tons of food and drinks My whole record collection That was all I really needed I thought I was safe down there Until they broke the door

Right in that moment I was playing music So fucking loud, that was Repulsion!! The damn zombies were petrified Their melting faces like on the cover

Horrified, Horrified, Horrified by Repulsion

Was so unreal but it saved my life Repulsion tunes destroyed their heads They were scared beyond their own death So loud Grind just melted their brains

Horrified, Horrified, Horrified by Repulsion

Deformed rotting face Their eyes popping out Erupting balls of pus Their hairs falling down

Avulsed
