

Broken Home

Awake The Dreamer

Your eyes are shifting
Your mind is drifting
What I am risking
When words are twisting
We're co-existing
If you're insisting
No waiting for me to come home

Your eyes are shifting
Your mind is drifting
When words are twisting
We're co-existing
No waiting for me to come home
I guess I'm back again on my own

Broken homes is all I see and hear
Now I see where we've ended up

I'm counting the time in cities passing by
You keep telling me words, is this our last goodbye?
But the demons inside my head keeps twisting your words
Until I'm doubting it all

Now I see where we've ended up
No waiting for me to come home

Broken homes is all I see and hear (see and hear)
But now I don't know if I'll make it
Knew you were snakes from the start
Now we're smoked til the end

Trapped inside this nightmare
We're all just pawns in their game
But we'll rise up and we'll break these chains
Won't be held captive
Time to wake up from the nightmare that we call home

I'm counting the time in cities passing by
You keep telling me words, is this our last goodbye?
But the demons in my head keeps twisting your words
Now I see where we've ended up

I'm counting the time in cities passing by
You keep telling me words, is this our last goodbye?
But the demons in my head keeps twisting your words
Until I'm doubting it all

I'm counting the time in cities passing by
You keep telling me words, is this our last goodbye?
Broken homes is all I see and hear
Now I see where we've ended up

No waiting for me to come home
