

Endless Skies

Awake The Dreamer

On our way
You and me towards the horizon
Never once looking back
To the times when we were just fine and
So content
Will we stay on this long and dark road 'till the end of our
Time

We're reaching for an unobtainable truth
We are deceiving ourselves
Why are we seeking what we don't know exist
It's time to open our eyes

I feel the clarity rising
It's coming from within
I feel the clarity rising
It's coming from within
It's coming from within

Beyond these darkened clouds
We know the stars that shine so bright
But these are endless skies
And we can only see so far

The distance is the only thing that's keeping us apart
We need to look inside our callous hearts
But I believe that we are closer than we really think we are We're closer than we really think we are

These are endless skies
We have to open our eyes

Beyond these darkened clouds
We know the stars that shine so bright
But these are endless skies
And we can only see so far
