

Safe Haven

Awaken I Am

I never said that this would be easy
There's more to life than meets the eye
And I don't think
I can hold this all inside
I've waited here a thousand days
Just to find my way back home
And I'm holding on to see your face
Let me find my way back home

Hold me tight
And make everything alright
We've succumbed to visions
But now our decisions
Become a part of this
Cause I hope tonight
You'll make everything alright
We've succumbed to visions
But now our decisions
Become a part of this

Cause I don't need more
Than simple things
But it's hard for me
When you're looking away

I've found my way back home
Cause I know and I hope
That I need you, you need me
