I'm not as stupid as I look
I could change the world if I wanted to
I might of never got a scholarship
Or went to collage but that Doesn't mean I'm not smart like you
I'm not as stupid as I look
I just paid the mortgage off my house
And got my life somewhat together
Not a loser forever
I finally figured it out

You made me feel like I wasn't good enough
And I believed you cause I had no trust
In myself, and my power
But now I know that I'm tough
I stopped believing in all that bad stuff

I'm not stupid as you look
I don't get every answer correct
Cause I feel way too much
Maybe I am out of touch
But I never claimed that I'm perfect
I'm not as stupid as I look
But I'm still sensitive as they come
I voice my opinion
And listen to my intuition
But that doesn't mean I'm dumb

I'm not stupid
I'm not clueless
And I don't have to prove anything to you
It's not your business
You're so ruthless
Your hatred is so deep rooted
Why do you want to list what they lack
Than rather uplift them
And tell 'em they can do it?
I'm not stupid
