AWS

I see you, when you penetrate in me. We walk through this display alive

This pentecost isn't tearful, as my eyes. I throw those signs to see this show blind

Use the devils fear to laugh!

Kiss the dragon on his wound!

When the day is ready to fall, we leave the room and fly with the clouds so high

This angel has two faces on her neck

Her breasts are deformed and splashing pus

She is standing mute on the old mountain, waiting for the word

She'll raise the dead souls to climb

Putrify all the shining stars!

I allure the horses in the night and we bite into them so kind

We allure the horses in the room and we bite into them delightful

I know you're here and seeing me. This bridge is closed across the river of unknown

Use the devils fear to laugh!

Kiss the dragon on his wound!
