

Feed Your Ego

Axium

This time you've got the best of me
Lay me down right next to apathy
Cut
It's for better or for worse
It's both a blessing and a curse
That feeds on me
So blind my eyes and feel no shame
Brush it off along with blame
And then call in

Hide behind your bitter fate
To keep inside your bitter hate
You don't like what I do
Well it's not about you
So go on and feed your ego

You bathe in sin you can't wash clean
Try to cash in what you can't redeem
Cut
It's for better or for worse
It's both a blessing and a curse
That lives in me
Say what you can to compensate
For there's no one there to appreciate
Why you don't bleed like I do

Hide behind your bitter fate
To keep inside your bitter pain
You don't like what I do
Well it's not about you
So go on and feed your ego
