

Testament

Axium

My lonely way
Day after day
Can't find my inspiration
Settle for consolation
I'm wasting away
The sky begins to fade
And I wish that I was made
To stand against the wind
As if it were my friend
I feel betrayed

Please hold to what you know
'Cause I just can't seem to tell you how I feel
And I feel something in my soul that tells me this is real

And I know I can't explain
Why pleasure feels like pain
Try to hide, try to subside
Everything I feel inside

Please hold to what you know
'Cause I just can't seem to tell you how I feel
And I feel something in my soul that tells me this is real

Please hold to what you know
'Cause I just can't seem to tell you how I feel
I feel something in my soul that tells me this is real

Please hold to what you know
'Cause I just can't seem to tell you how I feel, yeah
I feel something in my soul that tells me this is real
It's real
It's real
It's real
It's real
It's real
It's real
It's real
