

Therapy

Axium

I feel so lonely
No one to console me
Here as I sit amidst the wind
I have to see me
Not even I believe me
And my thoughts are on the mend

The sun plays tricks on my eyes
Trying now to make my way through all the lies
Put on my face to fool you all
But I don't have that far left to fall

It's therapy for me
To wear my heart on my sleeve
It's therapy for me
It's therapy for me

But you can see this
You never been this Question everything you are
I'll come back stronger
Can't help but remember that it's easy when it's done being hard

The sun plays tricks on my eyes
Trying now to make my way through all the empty lies
Put on my face to fool you all
But I don't have that far left to fall

It's therapy for me
To wear my heart on my sleeve
It's therapy for me
It's therapy for me

I'll come back stronger
Can't help but remember that it's easy when it's done being hard
