

My Father's Eyes

Axxis

Into my father's eyes
a little spark of life almost gone - forever Father don't go away
so much I wanna say How could I turn back the time now?
How could I live without your jokes, you laughing loud How could I keep all my faith?

The day you die -
you can hear me cry
my pain inside -
crying out at night
on the day you die -
tears running dry
I hold your hand - oh, father why... has time passed by?
...the day you die

On the day you're gone
there's so much left undone I will miss you forever
Even if I know that's life
I want you to survive
but I know I'm just dreaming Give me just one look into your eyes and open up the skies

The day you die -
you can hear me cry
my pain inside -
crying out at night
on the day you die -
tears running dry
I hold your hand - oh, father why...
Life goes on and on
So many words - unspoken - not said
I'll keep you in my heart
'til I'm dead

The day you die - you can hear me cry my pain inside - crying out at night on the day you die - tears running dry
I hold your hand - oh, father why...
The day you die
Now you are released
and now you are released oh, rest in peace...
