

I'll Never Give In

Aya

Don't know why we have to fight, baby
Don't know why I feel you close to me
When I feel your love and mine
And you know to see the signs
I love you better
You know me better
I'd like to think that you know me well

I love you, baby
I'll never give in
I love you, baby
I'll never give in

Put aside your pride; let's talk
We fuss and fight, then fall
What a bitter-sweet insanity
Would anyone see that it's wrong?
What is meant to be will come to be
If only we could see who we are

I love you, baby
I'll never give in
I love you, baby
I'll never give in

I love you, baby
I'll never give in
I love you, baby
I'll never give in

Twisted love can be such a rush
Twisted love can be such a rush

Maybe we can make it if we give it some time
Think I really know where you are
Wouldn't have to say it if I thought you were mine
Think I really know what you want
Think I really know what you want
Think I really know what you want
Think I really know what you want
