

Loving you or loving you not
Hard to tell these feelings I got
Waking up next to you, I'm shocked
Boy, does time fly by
When a girl next door turns into a women
Scared to fall in love so she keep running
Letting down her hair in the sunshine
Running from the pain to the blue skies

You're a throwback but you feel new
You're a throwback but you feel new
Thought I told you I'm done with you
You're throwback but you feel so damn new
That's why I wasn't fucking with you
And I swore I wasn't fucking with you
You're a throwback but you feel new
You're a throwback but you feel so damn new

And you say time away has changed you
And you say time away from me has changed you
Oh well, time away from you changed me too
Got my money up
I'm Paying my dues
And I'm feeling so well
You see my glow up real
I'm all across the world
I'm not that stupid girl anymore

You're a throwback but you feel new
You're a throwback but you feel new
Thought I told you I'm done with you
You're throwback but you feel so damn new
That's why I wasn't fucking with you
And I swore I wasn't fucking with you
You're a throwback but you feel new
You're a throwback but you feel so damn new

Damn, hello, how you get this number?
Swear I blocked you on my phone
Yeah, my mama good, I'm cool, boy, tell me what you want
Okay, we can meet but not for long, I'm singing songs

You're a throwback but you feel new
You're a throwback but you feel new
Thought I told you I'm done with you
You're throwback but you feel so damn new
That's why I wasn't fucking with you
And I swore I wasn't fucking with you
You're a throwback but you feel new
You're a throwback but you feel so damn new
