

Things Fall Apart

ayokay

Living in bars
Ignore the way shit harms
Like you swore
You'd never be one to Smoke down cigarettes
But they distract you when you obsess
You say you wanna change, but you don't try
You don't wanna say what's on your mind
Smoke down and your heart won't feel the rest
He won't care until you undress

But don't think you own
Anything that can't explode
Things fall apart

Don't let go
Things fall apart
Don't let go
Things fall apart
Don't let go
Of who you are and everything you've ever known
Things fall apart

When the street lights low
And you pull out your phone
Now you lookin' for Anyone to spend the night
Cause loneliness has an appetite
Sometimes you fail to think, you go in blind
And now you watch your life from the outside
And you caught up on the lifestyle of the rich
Life will turn you to a hypocrite

But don't think you own
Anything that can't explode
Things fall apart

Don't let go
Things fall apart
Don't let go
Things fall apart
Don't let go
Of who you are and everything you've ever known
Things fall apart

But don't think you own
Anything that can't explode
Things fall apart

Don't let go
Things fall apart
Don't let go
Things fall apart
Don't let go
Of who you are and everything you've ever known
Things fall apart

Things fall apart
Things fall apart
Everything you've ever known
Things fall apart
Everything you've ever known
Things fall apart
