Condemned Without A Trial

Ayreon

Now we return to the mortal world – yes, your world –
Where we find Henry and scores of townspeople working bravely, valiantly, to save Daniel from the blaze.
Yet at the same time they are desperate to find someone to blam e for the tragedy.
And it seems they've made up their minds...

Guilty, she has killed him, she is evil, she is lethal
We all knew it, she would do it, a matter of time
Guilty, she has killed him, did she do it, can we prove it
On reflection, there's no question, she did the crime!

Guilty, she has killed him, we should have acted and protected
We're too late here, we can't save him, the damage is done
Guilty, she has killed him, hear her screamin', she's a demon
She doesn't belong here, she is wrong here, and now he's gone

How could she do this and get through this
Could she really be so vile

No need to prove this, it's useless
Condemned without a trial, condemned without a trial

Guilty, she has killed him, she's a sinner, hell within her
We all knew it, she would do it, a matter of time
Guilty, she has killed him, she's a monster, an imposter
On reflection, there's no question, she did the crime!

Guilty, she has killed him, full of darkness, she is heartless
We're too late here, we can't save him, the damage is done
Guilty, she has killed him, as we predicted, she is wicked
She doesn't belong here, she is wrong here, and now he's gone

How could she do this and get through this
Could she really be so vile

Guilty, she is guilty, she has killed him
Truly killed him, she must pay!

No need to prove this, it's useless
Condemned without a trial, condemned without a trial
