

Daniel's Vision

Ayreon

"Back in Transitus, Daniel steels himself to receive the Angel's verdict.
He knows damn well that his seven days and seven nights are coming to an end.
But then... just as he's sure that all is lost, a flash of inspiration strikes:
There is one more thing he can try!

Seven days, seven nights
My time's almost over
My quest has failed

Seven days, seven nights
I couldn't save my poor Abby
She's alone, in a world of her own

But as I died, I had a vision
Her mother came to me
Now could it be some kind of omen
A sign, a sparkle of hope

Talk to Lavinia