

Stranger Danger

Ayria

I need to warn you everything is not all right
I've been struggling to stay near the surface
I've been going to deep again, getting lost in the darkness

But I keep pushing, pushing through but you should know that
I'm not as nice as I seem
My mind is a stranger
I think I'm in danger

Girl you are, girl you are
Too pretty to be so blue
How could you know what I want?
I'm not someone like you
Rip my heart out, rip my heart out
You give me one but I need to
Won't you smile? Won't you smile?
I want to destroy you

You tried to warn me but I never really listen
You tried to tell me this could be a sickness
But I know better when bad thoughts are addictive

And I keep telling, telling you that you should know that
I'm not as nice as I seem
You might be in danger
I'm just a stranger

Girl you are, girl you are
Too pretty to be so blue
How could you know what I want?
I'm not someone like you
Rip my heart out, rip my heart out
You give me one but I need to
Won't you smile? Won't you smile?
I want to destroy you

I tried to warn you, you're in danger
Don't you see that?
I'm a stranger
I tried to warn you, you're in danger

(How could you know what I want?....)

Girl you are, girl you are
Too pretty to be so blue
How could you know what I want?
I'm not someone like you
Rip my heart out, rip my heart out
You give me one but I need to
Won't you smile? Won't you smile?
I want to destroy you

Girl you are, girl you are
Too pretty to be so blue
How could you know what I want?
I'm not someone like you
Rip my heart out, rip my heart out

You give me one but I need to
Won't you smile? Won't you smile?
I want to destroy you

I want to destroy you
I want to destroy you
