

You're so Vacant

Ayria

Vacant darkened skies
Empty streets and restless minds
Isolated, left to my own distractions

Noisy crowded room
Lonely faces stare right through
I'm standing here in this private hell

The warmth has faded
Regrets remain
In this heartless place

You're so vacant (unchanging)
You're so vacant (unfeeling)
You're so vacant (unchanging)
You're so vacant (unfeeling)

For the wretched week
I wonder if today will be any different
Or filled with the same chaos repeated

The warmth has faded
Regrets remain
In this heartless place

You're so vacant (unchanging)
You're so vacant (unfeeling)
You're so vacant (unchanging)
You're so vacant (unfeeling)

What I wouldn't give to feel again
What I wouldn't give to feel again (when all this is done)
What I wouldn't give to feel again (we're nothing but vacant)
What I wouldn't give to feel again (when all this is done)

This heartless place
This heartless place
This heartless place
This heartless place

This heartless place (you're so vacant - unchanging)
This heartless place (you're so vacant - unfeeling)
This heartless place (you're so vacant - unchanging)
This heartless place (you're so vacant - unfeeling)

You're so vacant
You're so vacant
You're so vacant
You're so vacant
