

The Sky Is Crying

Ayron Jones

They say that there's comfort in the misery
And the way that it hurts, that's all I need
The darker it gets, the more I see
But that ain't the way it's supposed to be

'Cause I'm only happy when the sky is crying
And I only smile when I feel the pain
If I'm not alive then what's the point in dying
'Cause I'm only happy in the pouring rain

So let it fall down
Just let it fall down

I just can't leave better off alone
The sadder the song, the more I feel at home
When my heart gets broken, it shines like gold
But that ain't the way it's supposed to go

'Cause I'm only happy when the sky is crying
And I only smile when I feel the pain
If I'm not alive then what's the point in dying
'Cause I'm only happy in the pouring rain

So let it fall down
Let it fall down
Let it fall, fall down, yeah
Just let it fall down

Let it all fall down, yeah
Let it fall down
Let it all fall
Let it fall down