□□□□□□□□...

For instance, even if we don't meet anymore
Will you say there's nothing to be done, and give up?

I've quickly tired of continuing these false days
But if we can be together then there's nothing to be done about it
I want to hold hands and walk the city like normal
That's what I dream about. that's it, but

For instance, even if we don't meet anymore
Will you say there's nothing to be done, and give up?

I reconsidered who I'm living for
I felt like a new door had opened a little, but You're too kind, so I'm scared when I think
That I can't tell you my true feelings
For instance, even if we can't meet anymore
Will you say there's nothing to be done, and give up?
For instance, if we can't meet anymore
Before long will time let me forget everything?

For instance, even if we can't meet anymore
Will you say there's nothing to be done, and give up?
Unlike me, who sees only now
Do you get nervous thinking about what comes after this?

La la la la la...

Someday, someday, surely
We can be together...
