For instance, if I quickly ran away now
Would you search for me?
Until I'm found, is it ok to wait while believing
That people are kind?

Becoming an adult
Or staying an innocent child
Which one is worse?
Let's stop asking those questions
If you bloom

If we were in this city overflowing with people
Would you listen to me?
Will this neverending
Shout reach anyone?

While you know that you'll wither eventually
You're loved, still beautifully
What kind of bravery do you need
To grow straight and tall?

Becoming an adult
Or staying an innocent child
Which one is worse?
Let's stop asking those questions
If you bloom

While you know that you'll be scattered sometime
Even if you're stepped on you're still proud
What kind of strength do you need
To grow straight and tall?

Looking back at the days past
Or having hope for tomorrow
Which one is scarier?
Let's stop asking those questions
If you bloom
