Hey, you there

Who take the trouble to share time and space with someone else

To cover for your loneliness

With a neutral conversation or something

But have become even lonelier

However skillfully you may decorate yourself

You can't match the truth

You know?

To confront directly in spite of my bitter experiences

Is my ID, ID, ID, ID

It's not important how I'm viewed

What I need is how I should be

Hey, you there

Who just force your opinion on someone else

Saying that you are thinking of him or something

With a look that you have done something good

Just for your self-satisfaction

However skillfully you may decorate yourself

Your real intention is easily seen

Don't you notice?

Not to be able to say yes cleverly to everything

Is my ID, ID, ID, ID

It's not important how I want to be thought of

What I want to keep is how I want to be

To confront directly in spite of my bitter experiences

Is my ID, ID, ID, ID

It's not important how I'm viewed

What I need is how I should be

Not to be able to say yes cleverly to everything

Is my ID, ID, ID, ID

It's not important how I want to be thought of

What I want to keep is how I want to be
