

Comical Tragedy

Azahriah

Dive into your ocean, seeing every side
I swear I wasn't loved in my whole entire life
Gladly drank your poison, thought I'll will be fine
But people are changing, no exceptions, on this lonely ride
So please tell me who you want to be
'Cause I'm dyin' down here with pain in my heart and endless misery

Darling, I hope that you will see this comical tragedy
Face under masks, masks under faces, it's so close to pure insanity
Wanted to change my point of view, you wanted a better me
But that's who I am, the loverman, the song made with bittersweet melody
Oh-oh-oh-oh, Oh-oh-oh-oh-oh

Times are changing, years are passin' by, we growin' old
I've never had one so I could never say I sold my soul
But what's the point of this life if it's not giving love?
But if you hear my words, you'll know about everything I lost
So please tell me, is it you or just me?
'Cause we built up this city with bricks, so just tell me that what it's meant to be

Darling, I hope that you will see this comical tragedy
Face under masks, masks under faces, it's so close to pure insanity
I wanted to change my point of view, you wanted a better me
But that's who I am, the unhelping hand, the song made with bittersweet melody
Oh-oh-oh-oh

You left him all alone, tried to keep him quiet
This kid was sent to war, this war is in my head
So, I hope you'll see this comical life
I swear to you that I hope you know we fading and out
I swear to you that I hope you'll see, you'll see this comical life
I swear to you that I hope you know we fading in and out
I can't regret, I'm dyin'
