

Always knew you'd come unannounced
And with the placing of your hand
On my back as I stand
Always knew you'd come in a dream
She told me it would be
And I believed that old gypsy that it would be
I believed
She told me in a dream that it would be

And like a bird who wants to fly
Where the days are warm
And the sun stays in the sky
You'll make your way back to this heart

It's the only way
That we will survive
This is how I say goodbye

Every moment we're apart
Brings us closer to the time that we will meet again
And until then I'll look for you
And listen for your voice in every crowded room
And wait for the touch of your hand
While I'm standing in my circle of friends
