

Better Lovin' Man

B.B. King

You talk about your woman but I've got woman too
As a matter of fact, boy, I had yours a long time before you met
Let me tell you somethin' you may not understand
Well, you can laugh at me and I'll grin at you
But Lord, I'm a better lovin' man

You say that I look funny the way I talk and dress
You drive around in your XKE and thinkin' I'm impressed
But let me tell you somethin' that you may not understand
Yes, you can laugh at me and I'll grin at you
But hey, I'm a better lovin' man

So you just go on about your business and stop messin' with my life
Don't you try to play with my mind, boy, and I'll let you keep your wife
Let me tell you somethin' that you may not understand
Yes, you can laugh at me and I'll grin at you
But I'm a better lovin' man
