

I Don't Have A Mind Of My Own

B.J. Thomas

Hey little girl, leave me alone
Don't even try to deny you're breaking up my home
Tension has grown
'Til I don't have a mind of my own

Don't, don't lead me on with your lies
Don't whisper low while the starlight is glowing in your eyes
How long have I shown?
I don't have a mind of my own
How long have I shown?
I don't have a mind of my own

I've got more than a thousand things to do
I spend my time
Lost in a world of make believing you still care
Believing you could care for me, oh

Go on girl, play your game with someone new Bet you could laugh when you count how many hearts belong to you
I'll bet you can't to make it known
I don't have a mind of my own
I'll bet you can't to make it known
I don't have a mind of my own
