

We're Over

B.J. Thomas

We're over
I guess we know we're over
Even though all the words are still unsaid
And we talk of other things instead
We're over
We've come and gone, we're over
We go on like two actors in a play
Acting out our lies from day to day

Going through our paces
With smiles and frozen faces
That tell more than they hide
And knowing when we fake it
It's not love when you make it
Without any feeling inside

We're over
That's all we are we're over
And all that's left is to find the reason why
We're over and we still can't say goodbye