

Young Hearts

B.J. Thomas

Young heart, hold on
Through the rain
It's so hard
But I know your pain

Young love, first time
You're so confused
Don't think your life is through
It'll take a little time to understand
But you must believe that

Young (you're hurtin')
Hearts (are burnin')
Heal (you're learnin')
Even though you're crying
Some (may never)
Hearts (recover)
Feel (forever)
That they won't know love again
But someday soon I know you will know love

Cold nights, so alone
With your broken dreams
When this love
Is not all it seems
Even though it's not the way
You had it planned
Still you must believe that

Young (you're hurtin')
Hearts (are burnin')
Heal (you're learnin')
Even though you're crying
Some (may never)
Hearts (recover)
Feel (forever)
That they won't know love again
But someday soon I know you will know love

One step at a time and you will see
There's a silver lining
Try and you will find someone
Who will always be there
Out there somewhere

Young (you're hurtin')
Hearts (are burnin')
Heal (you're learnin')
Even though you're crying
Some (may never)
Hearts (recover)
Feel (forever)
That they won't know love again
But someday soon I know you will know love
