I'm looking for the blue moon
0000000
0000000000 my blue moon
I'm looking for the blue moon

00000000 my blue moon

Unbelievable believable but
I'm a ripping believer, still
I'm all alone looking for a stupid dream
I see your face somewhere
People are causing an uproar
I want to forget everything
Remembering you after all this time, I'm so unfair
I seek you again tonight, I erase my memories, a trigger
It almost looks like
Your lips, right? tonight's blue moon
The taxi runs, don't hide
Between the buildings, girl

The traffic congestion irritates me
I can't see you at the window
I feel like I'm about to go crazy, girl

Hey driver, drive faster
To a place without interruptions
To under the perfect night sky where
We laughed together in those days

Blue moon
I'm looking for the blue moon
I'm looking for the blue moon

I'm looking for the blue moon
Hey, come back my blue moon

Who do you think of on lonely nights?
If this was a drama, I would soon receive a message from you
I'm a fool, because I've lost
That beautiful 'love' called "you"

Girl, hey girl
Love, still love

When the traffic lights change, the scenery will start to move
You're not there standing between love and the buildings

Blue moon
I'm looking for the blue moon
I'm looking for the blue moon
I want to embrace you
I won't let you go again my blue moon
I'm looking for the blue moon
Hey, come back my blue moon
