

Disappear Here

Bad Suns

I really thought you'd be home by now
I guess I was wrong again
I used to think I could go somewhere
It turns out I'm ill prepared

I kiss the bend of the canyon road
Where I find your ghost again
Here, you found the sky
Through the moon roof, topless
You were so happy then

I'm right, I'm wrong
I'm everything but sure
My blazing head, my freezing heart
Your five words walk out the door

Would you run after me?
I feel I've stood here once before
Would you run after me?
Would you run, or do we
Disappear here

Now you say
"I see your face, every turn I make
I find no comfort there"
I add
"I hear your voice with every mistake
It's like you're always here"

I'm right, I'm wrong
I'm everything but sure
So we fight
Until dawn
When five words walk out the door

Would you run after me?
I feel I've stood here once before
Would you run after me?
Would you run, or do we
Disappear here

Go, go
No, stay
No, go, go
No, stay
No, go, go
No, stay
No, go, go, go

Would you run after me?
I feel I've stood here once before
Would you run after me?

Disappear here
