Everything Is...

Bad Suns

Baby, I was only joking, don't be mad
I don't really want to kill your mom and dad
Wasn't funny when I left town with my bag
No way home

In the summer of '06 you sprained your wrist
San Diego, on the half pipe, drunk as shit
Then you cut me with a jackknife while we kissed
Because who knows?

It doesn't matter if you lie
Tell me everything will be alright
I want to give it one more try
Tomorrow's coming at the speed of light
And everything is fucked, oh
Everything is fucked, oh

So I went and made a bad night worse with wine
Drove my pickup truck into a power line
Smoked a pack of cigarettes in record time
No way home

Jackie had a better plan, it all went to hell
Failed out of school and got her name cut from the will
A margarita in a can, she hates me still
Because who knows?

Oh, you've changed
Oh, you've changed

It doesn't matter if you lie
Tell me everything will be alright
I want to give it one more try
Tomorrow's coming at the speed of light
And everything is fucked, oh
Everything is fucked, oh

Oh, you've changed
Oh, you've changed

It doesn't matter if you lie
Tell me everything will be alright
I want to give it one more try
Tomorrow's coming at the speed of light
It doesn't matter if you lie
Tell me everything will be alright
I want to give it one more try
Tomorrow's coming at the speed of light
And everything is fucked, oh
Everything is fucked, oh

And everything is fucked, oh
It doesn't matter if you lie
Tell me everything will be alright
I want to give it one more try
Everything is fucked, oh
Tomorrow's coming at the speed of light

And everything is fucked
