

Wait In The Car

Bad Suns

Wrapped in your arms
Drinks on the balcony
Working your charm
Making it hard for me
Here comes the part
Where you take off my jeans
Show me your scars
Let me learn who you are

Don't change for me
Don't change a thing
Though I love to watch you changing
Just talk to me
Don't walk away
Though I love to watch you leaving
The midnight electricity
The strawberry moon
Hangs overhead, let's go to bed
I just want you
Don't change for me
Don't change a thing
Though I love to watch you changing

Wait in the car
I fill it with gasoline
Back at the bar
You told me everything
Stare at the stars
Breathe when I want to scream
Learning the art of not falling apart

Don't change for me
Don't change a thing
Though I love to watch you changing
Just talk to me
Don't walk away
Though I love to watch you leaving
The midnight electricity
The strawberry moon
Hangs overhead, let's go to bed
I just want you
Don't change for me
Don't change a thing
Though I love to watch you changing

After what you told me
I could break both his legs
Spend my Saturday in jail
Sell my Chevy for the bail
I don't think that I will
That man ain't worth my time and money
I put down my baseball bat
I've got my knife
He's got his truck with two flats

Don't change for me
Don't change a thing

Though I love to watch you changing
Just talk to me
Don't walk away
Though I love to watch you leaving
The midnight electricity
The strawberry moon
Hangs overhead, let's go to bed
I just want you
Don't change for me
Don't change a thing
Though I love to watch you changing

Don't change for me
Don't change a thing
Though I love to watch you changing
