I miss you, I wonder where you are
The person who I can tell everything to
I was scrolling through all my numbers
Then I put my phone down

If I said I was ok, it would be a lie
I'm not ok
But I'm smiling
Because everyone hurts this much

I need love
I'm so thirsty, I keep getting thirsty
My heart is frozen
It's scary outside the blankets
Someone please
Blow and melt my heart

Yes, that's right
We're so close yet so far
What if my expectations drive us apart?
Maybe I'm just scared

I'm smiling but actually
It's just a habit
I can't help it
It's just like that

I need love
I'm so thirsty, I keep getting thirsty
My heart is frozen

It's scary outside the blankets
Someone please
Blow and melt my heart

The cold wind
Makes my last remaining warmth go off
Someone to hold my hand so I won't disappear

I need someone
Slowly, very slowly
My heart is melting
I want to escape this bird-cage
And go to a place of rest so I can breathe
A person who I can truly love
