

Waterfalls

Bag Raiders

Tonight, we're sobered by a storm
Looking around the room, the fear was getting strong
And I stare into your eyes, I wonder where did we go wrong?
Did we lose ourselves to fun?
Can we be saved?
You say you wanna get away
We need to leave, this town will kill us if we stay
And I might as well abide, a fight won't help us anyway
And we need a place to go, to settle down
What sort of living is this life?
Endless confusion on a bed of sleepless nights
And our friends are turning strangers in a blinking of an eye
And we should take a hike before they pull us down

I'm running up on water now, baby
Jumping over waterfalls
The walkers flashing by us all are crazy
Tears don't matter much at all
Our bodies intertwine and now we're standing
Deep into the water we go
We leave 'em cause we're high
Jumping off a waterfall

You say a part of you can't leave
Dry up your tears, that heart will bloody up your sleeve
And it seems we fear the wall where we needed some relief
And you know that too much work will get you down
I never knew it'd be this hard
To pick up the dreams they dropped on Sunset boulevard
Spilling champagne into the street
And killing days in shady bars
And how we lived to tell the tale, I'll never know

I'm running up on water now, baby
Jumping over waterfalls
The walkers flashing by us all are crazy
Tears don't matter much at all
Our bodies intertwine and now we're standing
Deep into the water we go
We leave 'em cause we're high
Jumping off a waterfall

I'm running up on water now, baby
Jumping over waterfalls
The walkers flashing by us all are crazy
Tears don't matter much at all
Our bodies intertwine and now we're standing
Deep into the water we go
We leave 'em cause we're high
Jumping off a waterfall
We leave 'em cause we're high
Jumping off a waterfall
